Extended Item Pricing - Copy Item Prices - Summary

Extended Item Pricing provides a mechanism for maintaining prices for inventory items across multiple Sage 300 companies. Access is through a Copy Item Prices button that has been added to the core I/C Item Pricing form. Prices and companies can be filtered and cherry-picked. Sophisticated error-checking protects against inconsistent multi-company operations. A full log of changed prices is maintained.

Important Notes:

1. Certain pricing fields, for example "Markup Cost" are in the functional currency of a company. Extended Item Pricing will only copy these fields if the functional currencies of the source and target companies match.
2. When copying to a multi-currency target, all non-cost price information is copied.
3. When copying to a single-currency target, only prices whose currency matches the functional currency of the target company are copied.

Extended Item Pricing - Copy Item Prices - Overview

Extended Item Pricing operates from within an existing ("source") company. When the Copy Item Prices button is pressed, a window will pop up that allows filtering of prices in that source company. The filtered prices will be shown and can be selected or de-selected on an individual basis.

Pressing the Copy button on the pop-up window pop-ups up a list of ("target") companies to which those prices can be copied. The companies can be selected or de-selected on an individual basis. Extended Item Pricing remembers the previously selected companies as a way to assist with the process. The operation to be performed (Insert Only, Update Only, Insert and Update) should be selected. Pressing the OK button will start the copy operation, first asking for the ADMIN user's password. This password entry provides a security checkpoint and insures that there will be sufficient rights to complete the operation. When the copy is complete the log may be reviewed by pressing the Log button.

Sage 300 business objects are used to perform the copying. Illegal copy operations are therefore blocked and errors placed in the log file. When no changes are required for a selected price, there is no update performed - so the audit stamp is preserved.

This is the window from which companies can be selected.

Important Note: Before proceeding, decide which operation is to be performed. This is controlled by the drop-down and the top of the form:

Operation to be Performed:

- Insert Only operation will only add prices, if the price does not already exist.
- Update Only operation will only update prices that do exist.
- Insert and Update will perform both of these operations.

A checkbox can be used so that updating descriptions can be done quickly and safely.

Pressing the OK button will continue to the next step - entering credentials.
