

Productivity Tools License Information

TaiRox provides a single license for Sage 300 Windows Desktop and the Sage 300 Web Desktop version of TaiRox Productivity Tools. You can view the Productivity Tools license information from the Web Desktop; however, you cannot update the license information here.

You can only update license information from the Sage 300 Windows Desktop.

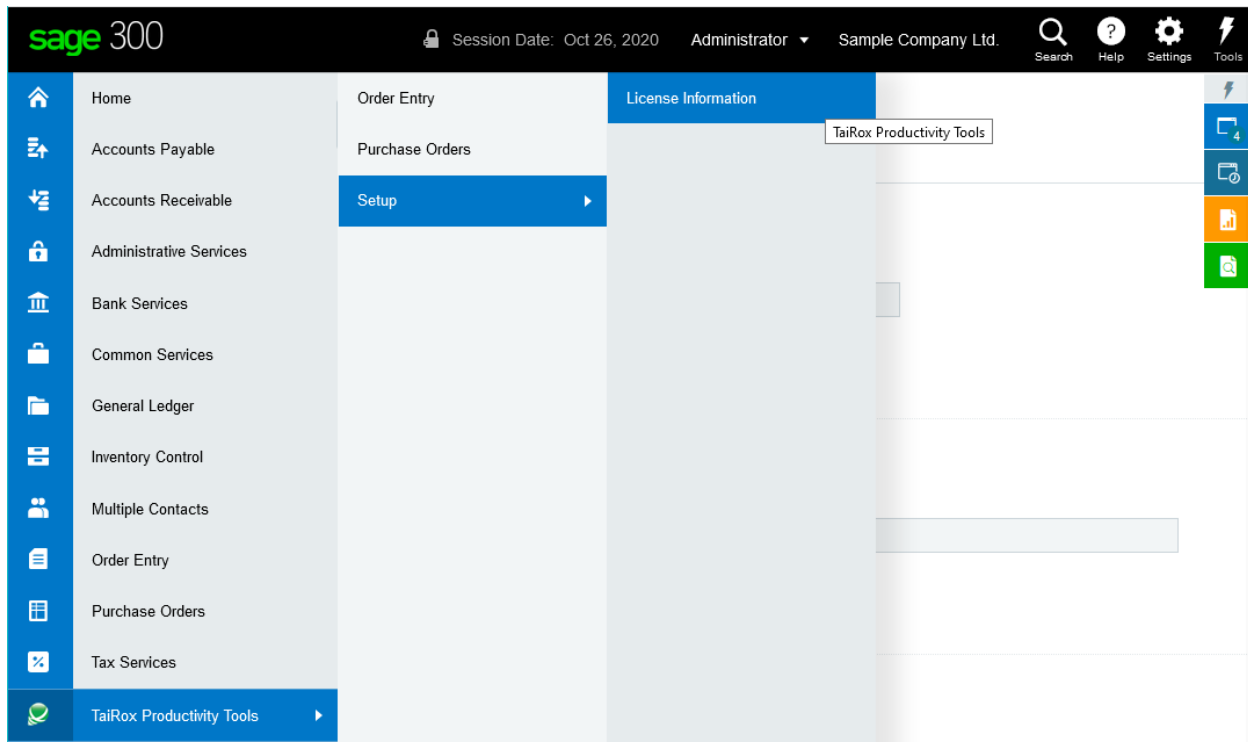

To use the Sage 300 Web version of Productivity tools, you must:

- Install Sage 300 and install the Sage 300 Web screens.
 - Set up Sage 300 for the Web.
- Install the Sage 300 Windows Desktop version of TaiRox Productivity Tools. Sage 300 must already be installed on the machine before you install Productivity Tools.
 - Activate TaiRox Productivity Tools on the Sage 300 Desktop.
- Install TaiRox Productivity Tools Web screens.

Important Note: When upgrading, uninstall the previously installed versions of TaiRox Productivity Tools using the Windows Control Panel before installing the new versions.

Viewing TaiRox Productivity Tools License Information

License Information appears under TaiRox Productivity Tools > Setup on the Sage 300 Web Desktop.

Note that you can view TaiRox Productivity Tools license information on the License Information Web screen, but you cannot update the information.

The screenshot displays the Sage 300 software interface. The top header bar includes the Sage 300 logo, session date (Oct 26, 2020), user role (Administrator), and company name (Sample Company Ltd.). A sidebar on the left lists various modules, with 'TaiRox Productivity Tools' selected. The main content area is titled 'License Information' and contains three sections: Product Information, Client Information, and License Information. Each section displays specific data in a structured format.
